- Polarized ^{3}He target has been successfully used to study neutron spin structure

- A rich program is planned for the near future and for the JLab 12 GeV upgrade

- Will provide valuable insight into nucleon structue, quark wavefunctions and quark-gluon interaction.